Principal’s Message

Hit the Target,

Be at school by 8.45am

The clock is ticking as the School's 30th Anniversary Fete is just 167 days away.

Japanese Study Visit

Our Kokuren Study Tour students arrived on Sunday and quickly settled in with their respective homestay families. The 30 students on the tour are fully engaged in English speaking lessons, participating in school activities and special excursions outside the school. I thank all our families who are hosting our young visitors and providing a snippet of the Australian lifestyle. I extend a special thank you to Kathy Ise for coordinating the many facets involved with this visit and Rie Graham our LOTE teacher for assisting Kathy.

Interschool Sport Survey Results
The survey forwarded home last Thursday with students in Years 6 and 7 was extended until Wednesday to allow more returns to be received. Unfortunately only 42.4% of students indicated they wanted to participate. As indicated in last week’s Homelines and in the letter sent home we needed approx. 70% of students to participate. Given this response I wish to advise that our school will not be participating in the 2014 Interschool Sports Program.

Countdown to 30th Anniversary

Like a child excitedly awaiting for their birthday our school community is similarly getting excited as our 30th anniversary celebration draws closer. Saturday September 13th is just 167 days away and I ask our community members to step up and join in the planning of this celebration. We need your help with setting and packing up on the day, ticket sales, food stalls /BBQ, Information booths and directing our many guests to the various activities. To register your assistance contact Lisa Raye on 0406920317.

Lost Property Collection

It is timely to remind parents to check the lost property with just 6 days of school remaining this term. All unmarked items remaining after the term is completed will be sent to Lifeline.

News from State Schooling

Flying Fox Danger

Queensland Health and City of Gold Coast work closely together to determine and mitigate public health risks associated with flying foxes. A main concern is children not being aware of the dangers of handling bats/flying foxes or disturbing their roosts, with the risk they could be inadvertently bitten or scratched. If this does happen it is very important that they tell their parents or teacher so they can get appropriate treatment.

A fact sheet/interactive poster has been developed by Queensland Health to educate children about health risks associated with flying foxes and to tell an adult if they are scratched or bitten.

Overhead Projectors – the end is near

In my time as a classroom teacher and as a Principal I have witnessed the rise and fall of the overhead projector as a vital piece of teaching equipment. A little acronym clarification first, the overhead projector is commonly known as an OHP with the clear sheets of film called transparencies, abbreviated to OHT. Sadly the OHP reign came to an end sometime ago. These once prized teaching tools have been made redundant, as digital technology transforms classrooms across the western world. The end, has not been dignified nor celebrated, as one would have expected for such an important and valued friend of teachers for over 25 years.

Today the OHPs sadly sit in groups awaiting their final fate in a world where most new teachers faintly recall their use when they attended school. A call to community organisations, who may require such a prized possession, has passed with not a single call seeking to adopt the deposed King of classroom presentations. As the time approaches for the final roll call and an undignified disposal at the council refuse station we hoist a white flag to surrender our last gasp efforts to find a home for our former prized possession.

The end is near, so I ask if any members of the school community would like to have an OHP at home to remind themselves of their schooling years when a great teacher was recognised by how many OHTs could be used in one lesson. Today as a final gesture to a valued friend we ask for a small donation of just $5.00, to keep the auditor happy, for you to have a conversation piece in your study, shed or mantel piece. To acquire a fine piece of history please email our BSM Mrs Leonie Foster on ljfos0@eq.edu.au who is in a dealing mood to shift the last remaining stock of OHPs, approx. 20 in number.

The Meet the creeps cybersafety website helps parents and students become aware of online scams, social media pitfalls and cyberbullying. The joint Telstra and Queensland Government project aims to equip middle school students with the skills to keep safe online.

Crackers the clown and Shifty Shane are just two of the characters you will meet in a new interactive quiz designed to highlight potential online dangers.

Why consistency improves kids’ behaviour

One of the simplest ways to improve a child’s behaviour is to be more consistent.

Consistency is often sacrificed by busy parents and put in the ‘too-hard basket’. When parents are tired, stretched and overworked the last thing we want to do is engage in a battle with strong-willed child over what are sometimes petty issues. Besides, consistency can make a well-meaning parent who values relationships feel downright awful.

But giving in rather than holding your ground is not a smart long-term strategy. If you give in occasionally kids will learn if they push hard enough or give that winning smile, you will eventually give in. Consistency is about being strong. It takes some backbone to be consistent.

Here are some ideas to help you be consistent with your kids:

1. Focus on priority behaviours. It’s difficult to be consistent with every single misbehaviour, but it’s easy to focus on one or two. When you are consistent with one or two priority behaviours it has a positive impact on other behaviours.

2. Give yourself a tangible reminder about the behaviour you want to follow up. Leave a note somewhere telling yourself that you need to “Walk away when child whines. Don’t give in.”

3. Check your routines. Make sure you have simple routines for troublesome times of the day such as bedtime or mealtimes.

4. Act rather than overtalk or repeat yourself when kids misbehave. Sometimes it’s really inconvenient to set a consequence, as you may have to battle a tantrum that follows. But the stand-firm approach pays off in the long-term as kids learn eventually that you mean what you say, and say what you mean. That’s what firm, consistent discipline requires.

5. Agree to a joint position with your partner about a range of parenting issues such as discipline methods, going out, the use of technology, alcohol, sexuality and other important areas.

2C CLASS NEWS

2C students have had a busy start to 2014.

ART: Students have been learning about primary and secondary colours as well as cool and warm ones. They have incorporated line and shape to present a sunflower in warm colours. A few of these are displayed below.

!Sunflower art by 2C students

POETRY: Students reconstructed a poem originally entitled ‘The Little Turtle’ and presented the finished products to the class. Some of these can be found below.

SAY ‘NO WAY’ TO BULLYING – 21st March: 2C students wore orange to raise awareness about bullying and take a zero tolerance stance. Wrist bands were bought and worn with pride. 2C created a ‘NO’ with their bands and bodies to consolidate this stance.

Book Readings In 6C
To improve our public speaking skills, 6C have been reading some pages from a book. The book is our choice and we read to our entire class for four minutes. Each student is trying to improve their skills in volume, pronunciation, pace, pitch, expression, standing correctly, keeping an audience’s attention and most of all our confidence.

You Can Do It Program

At Helensvale State School the children are taught social and emotional learning through the You Can Do It program. The 5 foundations of this program are developing children’s confidence, persistence, organisation, getting along and emotional resilience. This week’s guide is about resilience and at school our youngest learners are taught this skill through a character called Ricky Resilience.
YCDI Parent Reference Guide:
Emotional Resilience

Definition of Emotional Resilience:
Young children who are emotionally resilient can calm down soon after being extremely upset (down, worried, angry) without needing the immediate help of an adult. They can also control their behaviour (not fighting, returning to work or play within a reasonable time) when they become extremely upset.

Examples of Emotional Resilient Behaviour in Your Child:

- Stays calm and does not fight with a friend who will not share his/her toys
- Stays calm and does not fight when someone says something mean to him/her
- Stays calm and does not fight when a sibling pushes him/her
- Stays calm and does not worry when something is hard to do
- Calms down within a reasonable period of time when someone acts unfairly toward him/her
- Stays calm and does not worry too much when waiting to be collected by his/her parent/carer
- Does not appear overly worried if he/she does not understand how to play a new game at a friend’s house
- Does not appear extremely worried when parent asks him/her to talk to another adult he or she does not know.

Ways to Praise Your Child for Emotionally Resilient Behaviour:

- “I can see that even though you are a bit nervous, you are going to try to do it anyway.”
- “Even though you are finding this hard, you are not getting too sad about it.”
- “I can see you are choosing not to get into a fight.”
- “Good for you. You didn’t let yourself get too angry.”
- “You’ve learned how not to get too worried.”
- “You see, you can get through something that seems scary.”
- “Even though you didn’t know how to play that new game, you didn’t worry and kept on trying.”

Teach Your Child the Following Types of Thinking (Self-Talk):

- When I am upset, it is good to find someone to talk to.
- When I am upset, it is good to find something fun to do.
- When I am upset, it is good to think “calm down” and to take three big breaths.

“Wonderful Walking”

School rule: Be safe  You can do it key: Getting along Walking....

At Helensvale SS we have many concrete paths. It is essential that we WALK on these concrete paths to make sure we are all safe.

What does this mean?
This means that we must walk AT ALL TIMES when we are on a concrete path......

*before school when we arrive and when we move to our class areas
*during school hours when we move around the school
*at break times
*when leaving the eating area to go and play
*after school when we are leaving to go home
*doing messages for my teacher

WHENEVER YOU ARE ON CONCRETE – BE A WONDERFUL WALKER!!
We can NOT avoid the concrete paths and run alongside of them!

Why do we walk?
We walk to protect ourselves from falling and injuring ourselves. Concrete is HARD!
We walk to avoid colliding with others.
We walk to show respect and care for others.

Wonderful walking looks like......
This year the Senior Concert Band, Lindfield Strings and Discovery Strings will be participating in the biannual State Government run competition ‘Fanfare’. The event takes place mid next term and our performances will be held at the Performing Arts Centre at Upper Coomera State College. It is not a traditional competition were groups are awarded places for 1st, 2nd and 3rd. All groups are marked on how well they play their own music and are awarded a Gold, Silver, Bronze or participation award for their efforts. It is free for us to enter and free for family and friends to come and support us. Times and dates will be published as soon as we are informed. As a legal requirement from the Fanfare organisers, a link has been attached here for the Parent Media Consent Form. As it is a large document, we have added the link here for you to read the document but a paper copy of the page that needs signing will be sent home soon with your child and must be returned before the end of the term.

Self Defence classes in PE

This week we were honoured to have Sensei Petrus and Sensei Sherry from J.K.A Karate at our school. They were working with our students during PE lessons teaching us about the importance of Self Defence, Self-Discipline, fitness and confidence. It was a good follow up from the “Say No to Bullying “ day last week as students were taught strategies to overcome bullying including “the most powerful weapon one has is their speech: the ability to talk and diffuse the situation and walk away”.

Anyone interested in learning more JKA Karate can contact Sensei Petrus Van Der Walt 0416058077. Kids lessons are at the Runaway Bay Community Centre Tuesdays and Thursdays 6pm and Adults from 7pm. People that join up receive their uniform free.
